

【Shenzhen】 Sea World Culture and Arts Center

An urban oasis of arts and nature!

Designed in plain white tones, the Sea World Culture and Arts Center showcases simplicity and architectural minimalism, embodying modernist aesthetics at its finest. The Center is also known as an urban oasis given the lush greenery planted on its terrace.

Spanning around 70,000 square metres, the Center is a relatively massive public art space in China. The main building is the brainchild of the legendary architect, Fumihiko Maki, who uses numerous white walls, glass-based materials and simple lighting in high-ceiling exhibition halls to exude an airy ambience that highlights the true colours and visual effects of art exhibits. After a day of art appreciation, feel free to recharge your energy at the restaurants or take a good look around the art merchandise shop.
